Jeekyll and Hyde - Make Mine A Double

Our panto retells the story of inquisitive Dr Jekyll, who turns into an evil character, Mr Hyde, after he takes a potion he has made.

The action takes place in a London hospital, St. Spreserva's, 1905 and includes an awesome collection of puns. The script was specially adapted for our St Teath production by Bob Fox.

The two acts contain 19 rapid fire scene changes, made possible by the projection of animated scenery. There will be an interval of 15 minutes between acts.

Over 120 film versions have been made of Robert Louis Stevenson's original story, published in 1886. It is known for its vivid portrayal of a split personality - one that is both good and evil. The comic script exploits these opposites to good effect, as we hope you'll agree.

St Teath Drama Group has presented pantomimes for several years and last year's production of Mother Goose was widely acclaimed. Several local charities and organisations have benefitted from the proceeds. We always welcome new talent either onstage or backstage. Contact Jayne Stark on 01208 850332 if you are interested.
